Summary: Nagisa Shiota is boy with a girly face and most would mistake him as a girl. But even so, he still had a crush. The devil queen was interested in his life and played a little prank on the blue head. The magic she cast upon him had turned him in to something he NEVER wanted. A girl. How will he get through this?

1. Chapter 1

I went to fast. I got confused so, let me Rewrite EVERY THING so it'll be easier. Yes this time there is the Class E thing and a warning. Nagisa X Kayano, slight Kayano X Karma, Nagisa X Karma. Okay, so rewrite start!

Nagisa was on the way to the mountain where his class was when he was stopped by another boy. The boy was wearing a different uniform than him so he must be from another school.

"May I help you?" Nagisa asks politely. "Yes, actually," the boy said as he started to look nervous. "What is it that you want?" Nagisa questions him

"You," was his short answer. Nagisa was dumbfounded by his answer and at the same time, shocked. "I- I'm sorry, what?"

"I Love You," the boy confesses. "My apologies but I'm a boy. I'm a third year in middle school," Nagisa says and was about to walk away but was stopped by the boy.

"I don't care! You are cute and lovely! And I had fallen in love with you at first sight! We will get married and then, we'll go to Thailand!" The boy said as he tried to hug Nagisa Nagisa dodge and flipped the guy while saying, "GET AWAY FROM ME!" Then, he ran off.

In another dimension, lay a demon queen.

She was laughing evilly, "Yes, he is definitely the one! That expression, his worried and shocked expression was definitely the one I need.

She got down from the bed and stood up. She started to make an insect and inserted a drop of potion into it. "Ah... Yes, he reminds me of the way my lightning brother would strike me. Lovely," She let the insect go. "Don't disappoint me."

Okay, so that is for chapter 1. Hope you enjoy it!

pls review!

2. Chapter 2

On the way up the mountain, Nagisa got bitten by an insect. "OW!" Nagisa yelled and immediately slapped the insect. He looked at it threw it away in disgust.

When he made it up the mountain he entered the classroom almost immediately. He sat at his seat and sighed.

Lately, there has been other boys from different schools confessing to him and he didn't like it one bit. It was even frustrating for him. He didn't know why and he doesn't want to know why.

In this depressing mood, Karma approached Nagisa. "Hey, why the long face?" Karma asked as he sat on Nagisa's table.

"A GUY confessed to me this morning... he was a pervert too," Nagisa says in a sour voice. "That has been happening lately now, hasn't it?" Karma says which only earned him a grunt from his blue haired friend.

"Oh come on, I have an idea on how to avoid it," Karma says catching Nagisa's attention. Nagisa was quite curious with what his friend had to say.

"Get. A. Girlfriend," Karma says in casual tone.

"Wha- Whaaaat?! There's no way I can do that!" Nagisa said as a light pink blush adorned his cheeks.

"So, who's the girl you like?" Karma asks. Nagisa jolted at the question. "Please don't laugh, okay?" Nagisa says in which Karma nodded.

"It's Ka- Kaya-"

"Hey Nagisa!" Kayano greets him with a smile as Sugino stood behind her.

"Ah, Kayano...Hi," Nagisa greeted her back with a smile while fighting back his blush.

"Nice choice, good luck," Karma whispered to Nagisa which Kayano and Sugino caught a bit suspicious.

Karma then started his way back to his seat. If you looked carefully you would see the disappointment in Kayano's eyes.

The three friends chatted with each other until their class teacher, koro sensei entered.

Class went by like usual, soon enough it was time for recess.

Nagisa stood up while holding an item. He walked towards where Karma sat and place the item there. The owner itself wasn't there but Nagisa knew he would come back in around soon enough. "Nagisa! Wanna have recess together?" Kayano asked the blue head. "Sure! I just need to take my lunch first, you go on ahead," Nagisa said smiling. He was happy that he could have recess with Kayano for most of the time. Nagisa took his lunch and quickly went to go have recess.

Right after Nagisa left, a certain red head entered the classroom through the window. He went to his seat and took what was left for him on his table. "Strawberry, huh?" Karma took the drink and drank it. A smile formed as he mumbled something under his breath.

"Hey, Nagisa. What kind of food does Karma like?" Kayano asked Nagisa. Nagisa stood silent and pondered for a moment before answering, "He doesn't really have a favorite."

"Ah, I see... I recently got interested in cooking and I was kinda thinking of what to cook but, since it's like this then I guess I would just stick to desserts," Kayano said sighing a bit. Kayano continued to chat with Nagisa about different topics but sometimes she would mention Karma by accident.

'I always talk with Kayano like this yet, I feel as if I just figured something new. I just...' Nagisa thought looking at his food, 'It can't be that she...'

"Kayano, Who do think I am to you?" Nagisa questions her. "Your like my other girl friends Nagisa! It's fun being around you!" She says in a happy tone.

'I knew it...' Nagisa just mentally sighed in depression.

School ended and the students all left to return back home.

Nagisa went to his room and decided to take a bath. (I don't know what kind of bathroom he has so I'm going with a shower and a bath tub)He took off his clothes and took his towel. Then he went into the bathroom and into the tub of bubbly soap water. He would do this at times where he felt depress or stressed out since playing in bubbles would usually cheer him up. He started to toss bubbles everywhere like a child as he was having fun doing this once in a while.

Thinking back on what Kayano said made him a bit sad. 'Maybe I just have to be more manly,' he thought. Yes, that should be the solution. He could do that. He got out and dried himself up. He wore his clothes and kept the towel in its place. His hair was still a mess so he sat on his bed and started to comb it. Soon enough, his hair was in a good condition. He decided it was time to sleep since he felt really tired. He layed in bed and pulled on his blanket and drifted into deep slumber.

The next morning, Nagisa woke up earlier. There wasn't any school for today so he didn't have to rush himself. He decided to change his clothes when he took his shirt off, he saw that his chest looked bigger. He touched it and it was soft. His eyes widened.

'What...?'

He wanted to check further. Nagisa took a deep breath. And removed his pants only to see something he never wanted to happen.

He wanted to scream. But he held back because if he did his mother would come rushing up and find out. Instead, he took his phone and furiously typed on it. In around 10 minutes, a knock was heard on the window. There you can see Karma looking at the other direction.

Karma turned around again to face Nagisa. "So, you're a girl now?"

Okay that's what I did for now. I hope you enjoyed this short chapter.

3. Chapter 3

Last time on "I turned into a girl!?"

Karma turned around again to face Nagisa, "So, you're a girl now?"

"Karma!" Nagisa said as he... no, she opened the window. Karma entered but made sure to look away from Nagisa. "What's wrong, Karma?" Nagisa questioned the red head. Karma sighed and said, "You should wear your shirt you know." For your information, when Nagisa removed her shirt she did not wear another yet, fully exposing her upper half and chest. "Ah, ri- right..." Nagisa quickly resumed in changing her clothes. After she was done Karma looked and Nagisa and asked her, "Are you really... Nagisa?"

"Yo-You... You don't believe me..?" Karma looked down for a minute. "Karma, what I said was true! I woke up like this without even knowing why! If I wasn't Nagisa, then why would I even call for you?" Nagisa said with a bit of hope. Karma looked at her, _Even if you say as such..._ Karma sighed. "Fine, if you say so then it must be true. We are friends so, there's no way I don't trust you," Karma said as Nagisa smiled. "Thank goodness..."

Nagisa looked up to him. She smiled and said, "I knew you'd understand. We're friends after all!"

Ba-dump

"W-well yeah..." Karma said and thought, _'Why did I stutter? I don't know what's going on but I have to calm down...'_

Nagisa stared down to her chest, "My chest...Well, It's not sticking out much, maybe I don't have to worry about it?" Karma looked at nagisa. "Well, people would notice it up close though, so I suggest wearing a jacket or a vest if you want to go out as such," Karma said as Nagisa sighed a bit. "Wait, are you going to go out like that?" Karma asked, "Shouldn't you go see a doctor first?"

"That's not really an option, even if I were to go to a hospital, how am I supposed to prove that I used to be a boy?" Nagisa asked Karma. "Couldn't you just use your ID card or a photo?" Karma said as he sat on Nagisa's bed. "You know that I've been mistaken as a girl a lots before..." Nagisa stated sitting besides Karma. "On top of that, sex change isn't unheard of right? I'm sure they won't believe I suddenly turned into a girl. I mean, even you wanted to make me do that sex change thing," Nagisa huffed a bit at his last sentence.

Karma just laughed and said, "It was just a joke~ " but then suddenly Karma turned a slight bit serious, "Even so, whatever the cause was, it definitely happened yesterday."

"I guess so," Nagisa replied. Then, she suddenly flied. "What's wrong?" Karma asked as Nagisa got up. "Bathroom," was her reply as she left.

(Author: Screw this I'm going back to 'he' instead of 'she')

Only for him to return right after. "That was quick."

A light blush was seen on Nagisa's face as he asked, "K-Karma... How do girls pee..?"

Karma opened his mouth to answer only to pause. Karma's face was slightly red at hearing the question. Karma looked down unsure to answer. "Well... to put it in simple way... you just sit down on the toilet... and let it go..." Karma said to Nagisa as the bluenett nodded in understandment and went again leaving Karma in silence.

He should've seen that coming. Karma sighed weakly as he started to think about a few things.

Nagisa came back after a while slightly paler and mumbled, "That was a horrible experience..."

Karma only sweat dropped
